An ancient land, a unique culture, an extraordinary experience

OUR ACCOMODATIONS

LOCATION

Located more than 3,000 kilometers from continental Chile. Nayara Hangaroa sits on a privileged site within Easter Island, right on the main waterfront of the town with sea views, less than 1 kilometer from the airport and steps from the town center, which allows travelers to easily immerse themselves into the local community.

INSPIRATION

The architectural conception of Nayara Hangaroa constitutes a tribute to the ceremonial village of Orongo, whose remains are still found on the heights of the Rano Kau volcano, in its west summit. The green roofs resemble the ones from this local ancient village with also buildings connected through local gardens. The colors and textures of our rooms blend with the environment and pay tribute to this mysterious and ancient culture.

HOW TO GET THERE

From Santiago, Chile take a connecting flight to Easter Island (Rapa Nui). Flight time is approximately 5 hours. Mataverí International Airport is located just a few minutes from the hotel and transfers can be coordinated with our on-site team.

HISTORY & EXPERIENCES

It starts with some of the world's best excursions led by expert local tour guides. "Rapa Nui" -the indigenous name of Easter Island- had a unique development and history. There are over 900 statues -Moais, made of volcanic rock, some as tall as ten meters (33 feet) located mostly around the coast. At Nayara Hangaroa we want to show you what makes this remote and enigmatic island so special. Discover the destination, while fully immersing in its culture by joining us in our wide array of tours.

75 rooms built with natural materials, such as logs, clay and volcanic stone, featuring an immersion in the Rapa Nui habitat. All the rooms are equipped with state-of-the-art technology that control water and electricity consumption. Private terraces with water views, surrounded by the immense Pacific Ocean, far from everything, in the center of the world: Te Pito o Te Henua.
